Purwokerto, Indonesia

I'm a graduate from Telkom University Purwokerto, majoring in Informatics Engineering. During my studies, I enjoyed learning about system testing and making sure technology products run smoothly without issues. I'm detail-oriented and like finding solutions when problems arise.

I want to join PT Len Industri because I know this company works on important and large-scale technology projects. I'm eager to learn from real work experience and contribute to maintaining the quality of systems developed here.
